What is Foxtrail?

Foxtrail is an interactive team experience in which groups work together to solve puzzles, follow clues, and rediscover a city as a team.

How does Foxtrail work?

- 1. Group meeting point at the booked start time
The entire team gathers at the agreed-upon time at the train station in the respective city: central, convenient, and easily accessible.
- 2. Start in small groups
Depending on the team size, participants either set off simultaneously on different trails or at staggered intervals on the same route. This creates dynamic groups and fosters a positive team spirit.
- 3. An exciting city exploration
The teams explore the city in a playful way while solving a variety of puzzles—ideal for team building, communication, and injecting fresh energy into the workday.
- 4. Finish line in the immediate vicinity
The event ends no more than a 5-minute walk from the starting point. This keeps organization simple and makes coordinating the return trip effortless.

When Team Spirit Grows Through Play

A team event is most effective when it brings people together, inspires them, and challenges them in a playful way. With Foxtrail, teams develop precisely the skills that are crucial for successful collaboration.

Creativity & imagination

Unfamiliar tasks encourage new ways of thinking. Solving the puzzles calls for imagination, resourcefulness, and explicit "out of the box" thinking.

Logical thinking

Clues must be combined, connections recognized, and smart decisions made. This sharpens analytical thinking and structure within the team.

Self-coaching & understanding of roles

It naturally becomes clear which roles team members take on: Who leads? Who observes? Who analyzes? This strengthens self-reflection and mutual understanding.

Change of perspective & problem-solving

The varied tasks call for different viewpoints. Teams learn to stay flexible and tackle challenges together.

Motivation & team spirit

Shared moments of success bring people together. The positive energy of the trail boosts motivation, trust, and cohesion – lasting well beyond the event itself.

Foxtrail for Large Groups

The team event for large groups of up to 400 people—perfectly organized, flexible to plan, and available throughout Switzerland.

A Foxtrail for up to 400 people? Yes—it's possible!

Foxtrail is ideal for large corporate events, kick-offs, client events, or team-building events with several hundred participants. Thanks to our wide selection of trails in urban areas, many teams can start simultaneously on different trails.

With over 20 years of experience in event planning, we know exactly how to get even large groups out on the trails efficiently, reliably, and without wait times.

Organizing large groups is particularly easy in Lucerne, Bern, Basel, and Zurich, since several suitable trails can be used simultaneously in these cities. Events in other regions are also possible—in these cases, we recommend allowing a little more time for staggered starts.

Handy Add-Ons for Large Groups

We know how challenging it can be to plan for large groups. That's why you can choose from several add-ons that will make the planning process much easier and take some of the burden off your shoulders during the event.

- Start Coordination – To ensure a smooth start, we offer professional start coordination. This service ensures that all participants start in the right group at the right time, so you, as the organizer, can sit back and relax. We offer this service for CHF 185.00, subject to availability.
- Customized starting location (tailored to your needs) – would you like to start right from your company headquarters or the event venue? With this additional service, we'll customize the starting point of your Foxtrail to ensure a seamless transition from the official part of the event to the experience. We offer this service starting at CHF 250.00.

Example: Mustermann Company

- Location: Zurich
- Group size: 7–8 people
